Lee Celebration.

The Methodist church was crowded to its utmost capacity last Saturday with Confederate Veterans, children of the Confederacy, school children and others who had assembled to commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of the Confederacy's great chief, General Robert Edward Lee. The local chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, under whose auspices the anniversary was conducted, had prepared an elaborate program which was carried out to the letter and in such a manner as to delight and please the immense audience. Appropriate music was rendered by the choir, a splendid original paper was read by Mrs. C. Ashley and Miss Pattie Threadgill with much spirit and grace recited patriotic verses from the Sentinel Songs of the Confederacy, and a fitting eulogy upon the life and services of General Lee was delivered by Columbus B. Smith. After the exercises at the church the old veterans were received by the Daughters at the Knights of Pythias hall and there refreshed with a luncheon such as may be only prepared by the good ladies of Madison. The "old boys" were loud in their praises of the delightful entertainment provided in their behalf and appreciated the efforts of the good women of town and county to the fullest extent.

Disturbed the Congregation.

The person who disturbed the congregation last Sunday by continually coughing is requested to buy a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. D. G. Smith.

Hymeneal.

W. M. Arnold and Mrs. Allie May Rogers, of Madison, were married here at the court house last night, at 8 o'clock, by Judge Conner, and took the west bound train for their home. The groom is a prosperous farmer of Madison county, and a nephew of H. J. Morris and J. J. Dixon, of this city. The bride is a lady who is very popular in Madison county, and is a daughter of Rev. Green. The Democrat extends congratulations.—Live Oak Democrat, 18th.

The happy couple alluded to in the above notice are well known in our county and their many friends extend congratulations and best wishes in which the New Enterprise heartily joins.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Humphrey, who live but a few miles from Madison and are popular and influential citizens.

At the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Susan Langford, near Hanson, on Wednesday of last week, Mr. J. C. Warnock and Miss Vina Langford were happily united in marriage by Rev. Moses Ward, of Dixie, Ga. The attendants were Mr. Pope Webb and Miss Smith Williams, Mr. Max Cobb and Miss Edna Webb. The ceremony was performed at four o'clock in the afternoon and was witnessed by a large number of the friends of the happy couple. A splendid wedding supper was served to which the assembled guests did ample justice. Congratulations and best wishes were showered upon the happy couple, and this paper joins their hosts of friends in wishing the newly wed a long, happy and prosperous married life.

How to Avoid Appendicitis.

Most victims of appendicitis are those who are habitually constipated. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup cures chronic constipation by stimulating the liver and bowels and restores the natural action of the bowels. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes. D. G. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould of New York were in Tampa this week.

County News.

BY OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENTS.

PINETTA.

Miss Cara and Mr. Oscar Covert were visitors here from Madison last Saturday afternoon.

The farmers in this vicinity have started to plowing and are making preparations for this year's crop.

C. W. Slate, a valued employe of the G. S. & F. R. R., spent Saturday and Saturday night with his parents near here.

The infant baby of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Coody passed away last Wednesday night, after a few days illness. We extend our deepest sympathy to the bereaved ones.

W. H. E. Terry is putting lumber on the ground for the purpose of making an addition to his store house, the same to be used by his wife as a millinery department.

Rev. Mann filled his first appointment here last Saturday and Sunday and preached able sermons. The church is well pleased with Bro. Mann as a new pastor, and we hope he will accomplish much good in this his new field.

HAMBURG.

Lester Caves, of Canton, is visiting his cousin, John Flowers.

Miss Madge Burnett spent Saturday with Miss Bessie Morrow.

Cleveland Wilson and his sister attended church at Hopeful Sunday. Misses Bessie Sanders and Ossie

Morrow are the guests of Miss Mae Morrow this week.

We are having some cool weather now and the farmers are killing the rest of their hogs.

Alex Wade spent Saturday in Hamburg. Guess he would like to help Mr. A. H. Morrow plow this week.

LEE.

Mrs. Boykin spent last week in Madison.

Mr. Charlie Gibbs went to Madison Friday.

Miss Evelyn Blake came up from Live Oak Saturday on business.

C. M. Friar left Sunday night for Charleston, S. C., on a business trip.

Choir practice at Mr. Stroud's Wednesday night was largely attended.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Haven visited their son at the county capitol Sunday.

Mr. George Fletcher's bridge crew were here last week seeing about building the new depot.

Miss Hattie Rowe, who has been visiting her brother for some time, returned to Jacksonville Monday night.

Quite a number of drummers visit our town daily, and there is nothing truer than the saying that "drummers flock to the progressive towns."

Lee is not as large as Madison, and there are no automobiles here yet, but one passed through here one day last week en route to Madison, and the natives were not at all alarmed.
